LOCAL MISCELLANY.

A DOCK DEPARTMENT REVOLUTION. CHARGES PREFERRED BY THE MAYOR AGAINST PRESI-DENT WESTERVELT AND COMMISSIONER BUDD-THEIR EXPECTED REMOVAL-THE REASONS FOR

THIS STEP. It is stated upon good, authority that on Monday of last week the report of the Commissioners of Accounts upon the books of the Department of Docks was placed in the Mayor's hands. The report was of such a nature, and, it is asserted, that it showed such mismanagement in the affairs of the Department, that very soon after he received it Mayor Wickham prepared charges against Dock Commissioners Jacob A. Westervelt and William Budd. These charges were preferred in writing and the accused given until yesterday to make their reply. Yesterday it was understood that the time was further extended until Monday next. By the especial request of Mayor Wickham the matter was kept from the public, so that the exact nature of the charges is not known. The matter, however, has been discussed in the Department of Docks for nearly a week past, and it is the general opinion there that within the coming week both Commissioners will be relieved, as it is said that they can make no adequate reply to the charges. Very powerful political influence has been brought to bear to save President Westervelt, but without success, though it seems probable that in his case matters will be so arranged that he may retire from the Dock Department and receive an appointment in some one of the other departments. Many influential friends have also been at work in the interest of Commissioner Budd; none more carnestly than the Hon. John J. Cisco, but it is believed without avail.

past have utterly ignored the advisory officers of the Department, endeavoring to confine all authority to themselves. Suggestions as well as protests were alike thrown aside, and many gross mistakes are said to have been made in managing certain divisions of work, the business of which those who tried to control it did not properly understand. As a consequence, all blame falls directly upon these Commissioners, Westervelt and Budd, for Commissioner Wales has been connected the Department such a short time that none of the complaints of mismanagement can apply to him, and it is said in all his dealings in the Department he has acted strictly up to the letter of the law. President Westervelt is represented to have been very easygoing in all his actions, and being at the head of a department with the details of which he was not acquainted, to have made many very unfortunate mistakes. Of Capt. Budd it is said that, though active and enterprising in the department work, he has not always followed the requirements of the law. It is not probable that the charges themselves can be kept from the public much longer.

FASHION'S HIGH FESTIVAL TO-NIGHT. PREPARATIONS FOR THE CHARITY BALL-OCCUPANTS OF THE BOXES.

The flutter of excitement in the upper circles of New-York society will reach its hight this evening, at the Academy of Music, when the annual Charity Bail will occur. Unusual efforts have been made to make this ball the most successful in every respect of any yet given. The boxes have all been sold, and this morning the final touches will be given to the adornment of the interior of the Academy. The back portion of the stage floor will be closed in by an exterior scene, and near it will be erected a platform for the lady managers. This platform will be decorated with a few rare flowers, and fountain of perfumed water will be placed near by. Aside from these decorations and the usual motto. "Charity," in gas jets, which will be suspended from the stage front, the ornamentation will be slight. The Floor Committee is chosen from the General Committee of Managers. The members in charge will be distinguished by a badge. Supper will be served in Nilsson Hall by Delmonico. There will be two orchestras, Bernstein furnishing the dancing music and Grafulla that for the promenades. The managers will enter the ball-room at 9:30 p. m., and at 10 o'clock the ball will open with a grand promenade. The costumes generally are said to eclipse in magnificence and value any yet seen in New-York.

In anticipation of the usual rush for carriages, a special force of police under Capt, Gunner has been detailed for duty at the Academy. Following are the names of the occupants of boxes; PROSCENIUM.

COMPULSORY STUDY OF GERMAN-THE MATTER

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held yesterday afternoon. It was the day appointed for the reception of the report of the Committee on the Compulsory Study of German in the Grammar Departments of the Public Schools, and this called forth a full attendance of the Commissioners, and of other gentlemen interested in public instruction. The report of the Committee on Courses of Study was anbmitted. Commissioner Klamroth spoke in favor of the report, which recommended the compulsory study of the German language 30 minutes each day in all the grammar departments. He said that the present system of elective study had been so imperfect that it was generally conceded that it was a positive detriment to the course of instruction in the schools. Commissioner Baker opposed the report on the ground that German was expensive and superfluous as a study in public schools. He thought more attention should be paid to the elementary English branches. We, he said, are an English-speaking nation, and the question plainly is, Is the compulsory instruction of all our children in any foreign language necessary or expedient in a common school education ! It takes $45,000 to furnish instruction school squeation! It takes $6,000 to furnish instruction in the German language, but that would be of no consequence if it were considered necessars or advisable. The aim of public schools should be to Americanize Germans and other citizens of foreign birth, not to perpetaste, by school training in a foreign tongue, the original allenation of blood.

exact figures. He said that a committee from the Iufant Asylum bad called on him, and stated that there was between $6,000 and $7,000 remaining in the City Treasury from the appropriation of last year. The Controller said his figures were correct, and proposed that the item in regard to the Asylum stand over. The Mayor thought it best that the whole matter should be laid over, and the representatives of the various societies requested to attend an adjourned meeting to-day. Twenty-four hours would not make much difference. The Controller said he was exceedingly anxious that there should be no delay in paying creditors of the city what was due them. The Mayor said he was much pleased that the Controller should have come to that conclusion. Nevertheless, no harm would result to the societies by walting 24 hours. The Mayor pressed his motion to lay the matter over for one day, and this was carried by a vote of 3 to 1, the Controller then called up his resolution, offered at a previous meeting, that it was inexpedient to transfer mexpended balances, prior to 1874, while so many personal taxes remained negotic. President Lewis was opposed to acting on it until he knew the amount of the unexpended balances, and moved to lay it over. This was discussed at length, and the Controller's motion was then had over. A communication from Commissioner Van Nort, asking the Board to anthorize the issue of $30,000 of sewer repairs stock, was indicover. over, and the representatives of the various societies

CATHOLIC CONFERENCE IN THE NEWARK DIOCESE.

THE CLERGY BROUGHT TOGETHER FOR THE STUDY OF THEOLOGY AND FOR MORE PERFECT DISCI-

Several weeks ago the Right Rev. Michael A. Corrigan, D. D., Bisnop of Newat . S. J., addressed a diocesan letter to the clergy of his diocese, relative to a conference, in order to insure un formity of discipline throughout the various parishes, and to promote a love of study among the clergy. In the second Plenary Council at Baltimore this practice was warmly recom mended, and since that time special laws on this subject have been made in various Diocesan Synods. The state that it was the intention of the Ordinary to establish as soon as practicable Conferences on moral and dogmatic theology and sacred liturgy. The first Conference in the Diocese of Newark was held at the Catholic Institute in Newark, yesterday afternoon. As the chief object in view was that the clergy should keep up the study of theology, the cases were made to embrace the leading principles of a treatise, rather than knotty questions on some particular point, and, that all might be in-lied to study, the Moderator of the Conference, after the solu-tion of the cases by them. tudy, the Moderator of the coviously appointed, and ion of the cases by those previously appointed, and ionneed that he would call on others present, at his discounced that he expression of opinion. The Bishop an-tion of the cases by those previously appointed, announced that he would call on others present, at his discretion, for an expression of opinion. The Bishop announced that in addition to the case of conscience a augmatic case would also be introduced, on account of the too general neglect of that province of theslogy, which is so necessary to every pastor of souls, who is obliged to instruct his flock in sound doctrine, and to be always ready to antisty every one that asks for reason for the hope which is in him.

Bishop Corrican presided at the Conference yesterday, at which about 60 pricess were present, including the Very Rev. G. H. Doane, V. G. Every parish in the diocese was represented. The conference was in session about two hours, with closed doors, the debates and deliberations not being intended for publication in the religious or secular newspapers, it is the intention of the Bishop to shave several of these Conferences each year, that of yesterday being initiatory and experimental. He hopes very much good may arise from bringing the clergy together, that they may become better acqualated with each other and with the Bishop, and that a spirit of emulation may be created athors, the workers. The Bishop felt that the diocese wanted a thore perfect discipline, and he hopes to accompany this through these Conferences. The cases for the next Conference were distributed yesterday.

Postcursten.—A young farmer named David 8.

Husted was arrested in Portchester on Tuesday, upon the companie of the Glen's Palls Insurance Company, charged with arson. It appears that Mr. Husted, about a year ago, creeted a house on the outskirts of Greenwich, Conn., and when it was nearly completed, got the building heavily insured in the Glen's Falls Company, and also in a Connecticut company. Shortly after that, it was totally destroyed by free, and when Mr. Husted endeavored to obtain his insurance from the Connecticut company the claim was resisted, and defeated, while the Glen's Palls company have begun criminal proceedings.

EVENING SESSION OF THE HOUSE.

REGULAR REPORT OF PROCEEDINGS. ARGE AUDIENCE IN THE GALLERIES-THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL UNDER DISCUSSION-A LIGHT DE-

BATE-NO NEW POINTS ELICITED. Washington, Feb. 3.-There was an immense audience in the galleries this evening to listen to the debate on the Civil Rights bill, but there was not so much interest manifested in it by the members them selves, for there were but few seats in the Chamber oc cupied. Mr. PARKER (Rep., Mo.) occupied the Chair, and the debate was opened by Mr. STORM (Dem., Penn.), and the debate was opened by Mr. STORM (Dem., Fem.), who opposed the bill as dangerous to the peace of the country, as unnecessary and uncalled for, and as having had the seal of popular disapprobation set upon it at the late elections.

Mr. WHITEHEAD (Dem., Va.) followed on the same side, representing the irritating effect which the bill would have on the people of the South, and intimated that in retaination the cotton and tobacco of the South would be shipped to Europe from Southern ports, and that the Southern people would deal directly with the people of Europe.

that the Southern people would deal directly with the people of Europe.

Mr. HARRS (Rep., Mass.) inquired of Mr. Whitehead as to the statement made to-day by Mr. Lynch of Mississippi that he was forced to occupy a smoking-car on the railroads in Keutucky and Tenessee.

Mr. WHITEHEAD said he could not speak for those States, but he knew that within two or three weeks he rode in a railroad car with a colored man and woman, nice, well-behaved people. So far as he knew, Mr. Lynch would get in Virginia as good accommodations at a hotel as the gentleman from alassachusetts (Mr. Harris) would, though he might not be placed at the same table or loaged in the same room.

Mr. RAINEY (Rep., S. C.) intimated that he, as a colored man, would not be allowed to ride in the common street cars in Richmond.

Mr. WHITEHEAD did not know how that was, as he

Mr. RAINEY (Rep., S. C.) intimated that he, as a colored man, would not be allowed to ride in the common street cars in Richmond.

Mr. WHITEHEAD did not know how that was, as he had not been in Hichmond for allout two years. He defended the reputation of the people of his State, saying that its public men were not tained with Credit Mobilier, Sanborn contracts, Pacific Mail substiles, Jay Cooke faitures, or any tang of the kind, and that that State was free from murders, from riots, and from such great crim. con. cases as flourished in the State of New-York. He declared that three-fourths of the men on the Republican side had no more right to pass this buil than they had to go to Heaven or to come to the next Congress. The bili would do the colored men no good, but would produce irritation and bad feeling.

Mr. CAIN (Rep., S. C.) advocated the bili and declared that that there would be no real, enduring peace in the land so long as 5,000,000 of people were deprived of their tights, and so long as discrimination was made against them. Much of his speech was in criticism of Mr. Whitehead's remarks. He sheared at the idea of there being bad blood between the races at the South, when statistics showed that there were over 1,700,000 much evidence of bad blood. [Laughter,] If the negroes would only cease to be Republicans and would voice the straight-out Democratic ticker there would be no bad blood between them. As to social equality, he derided it as a bugbear. Why, said he, no you suppose that I would introduce into my family a class of white men whom itself in the country! Do you suppose that I would have been them. As to social equality, he derided it as a bugbear. Why, said he, no you suppose that I would have been them. As to social equality, he derided it as a bugbear. Why, said he, no you suppose that I would have been them. As to social equality, he derided it as a bugbear. Why, said he, no you suppose that I would have a suppose of the bill na measure that would abous every remaining distinction between th

He was followed by Mr. RAINEY of South Carolina on the same side, who declared that he had seen the bones and dust of dead slaves taken from a cemetery and used to fill up the mud holes in the streets of Richmond. If there was no kindly feeing toward poor dead slaves, how could it be expected that there would be any toward the freedmen who were strugging to get on the same place with the wilder.

Mr. RAPIER (R.p., Ala.) also spoke in support of the bill.

Mr. LAMAR (Dem., Miss.) made a brief protest against the bill as disastrous to the peace, prosperity, and happiness of the people.

The House then, at 10 o'clock, adjourned.
